Meet your new Classmates

Ms. McDuffie, Principal

- You can show respect to others by giving them your undivided attention and not talk while they are talking. Showing respect is especially important when the teacher is instructing students or when we are having an assembly and the speaker is talking.

Mrs. Black, Vice Principal

- We act responsibly when we complete and turn in assignments on time.

Mrs. Couvillon, Administrative Assistant

- Soar to success! Hawks take heart! Aim high and let success lead you to EXCELLENCE! Fly high and aim straight with meaningful purpose. Hawks you will find your "sky" has no limits and no boundaries! Let EXCELLENCE be your compass, and your heart be your guide.

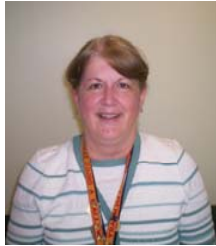

Mrs. Jones, School Counselor

- Work Together- Working together to get something done, sharing the work makes it easy and fun!

Miss Glass, School Counselor

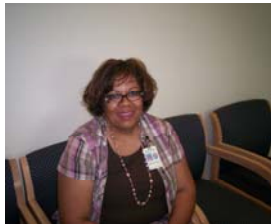

- We keep safe by telling an adult when someone makes us feel uncomfortable.

Mrs. Robertson, Secretary

- Respect is not only something that you show to adults. You should be respectful of your friends and other students as well. If you treat all people the way that you would like to be treated yourself, you will never go wrong.

Mrs. Edwards, Secretary

- Whatever the job, big or small, doing it together makes it easier and much more fun!

Mrs. O'Dell, Nurse

- We keep safe by playing safely on the playground equipment and not playing in the bathrooms.

Mrs. Huffman, Cafeteria Manager

- Have respect for others who wait patiently in line.

Mr. Washington, Building Services Manager

- Keep the bathrooms and your classrooms clean by picking up after yourself. With a clean school, we can all soar to success.
